

Utley Rhyolite

Steven Dutch, Natural and Applied Sciences, University of Wisconsin - Green Bay
 First-time Visitors: Please visit Site Map and Disclaimer. Use "Back" to return here.

The map above shows the principal Precambrian outcrops in south-central Wisconsin, the so-called "Baraboo Interval" (1700 Ma) granite-rhyolite terrane. Towns without outcrops are yellow, rhyolite localities are purple, granite localities are green. The Glovers Bluff impact structure is also in the map area and is light blue.

